How is it October already?!?

Seriously, time has gotten away from me. Maybe it's the hot temps still raging here in Phoenix, or perhaps the fact that my daughter had 8 volleyball games during the month of September, plus 4 practices a week.

But wow, she improved so much!

Anywho, since I missed sending out a September newsletter I'm just going to have to send two this month, one announcing my next giveaway (below!) and a later edition with all my normal goodies like upcoming releases and book recommendations, and where I'll announce this month's winner, because I can't postpone. I've got big plans for November and December. And for you.

(Insert creepy laugh here)

Giveaway!

Alrighty then, down to business. I've got a $10 Amazon egift card for one lucky winner. All you've got to do is reply to this email and tell me your favorite seasonal story. That might feature apple orchards and cinnamon sugar dusted kisses, or perhaps plenty of thrills and chills and things that go bump in the night. I'll even accept snowy cabins and Christmas celebrations, for those of you living perpetually ahead of reality.

Whatever your favorite holiday-ish story, just tell me why it's your favorite and who writes it, and in a few weeks you could be buying another on me!

As always, you'll get an extra entry for referring your friends to sign up for this newsletter - just forward them this email so they can click HERE to subscribe, then let me know!

Alrighty, friends, I think that's it for now. As always, feel free to email me with any writing questions or bookish thoughts. I would love to hear from you!

In the meantime, happy reading and keep an eye on your inbox!
