love, grit & grace-filled fiction

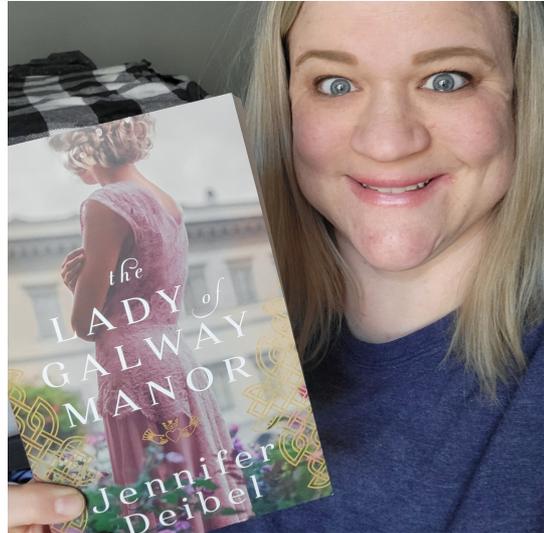

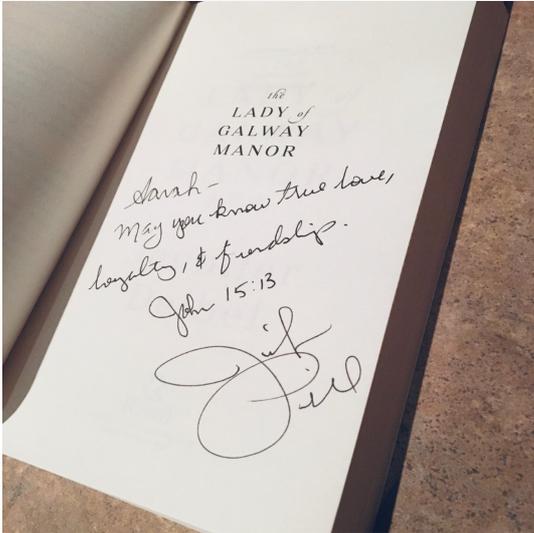

Hey Bookish Buddies!

How is your February going? Mine has been busy, busy, busy, but oh-so-good! First off I'm writing in my new work-in-progress again. Yay! It's been a slow transition after so much time away from this story but I'm waking up thinking about my characters again, so that's great! I love this motley crew and can't wait to put them through the ringer (insert evil laugh here), and then bring them out the other side. Maybe...

I also won two books in a giveaway! I couldn't believe my luck! Author R. A. Douthitt was giving away her brand new romantic comedy The Fine Art of Love, as well as Life Flight by Lynette Eason. How cool is that?!

Speaking of giveaways, yes, I did pull a winner for my giveaway of an autographed copy of Jennifer Deibel's new novel The Lady of Galway Manor and funnily enough another Sarah in Arizona won!

Congratulations Sarah S. and great name by the way ;)

I don't have much else to report, except next month is another giveaway, and I have no clue what to give!!! There are some great books coming out this year that you'll have a chance to win, but I have nothing for March!

So I thought I'd ask YOU my potential winners. What ideas do you have? A new release? Old classic? A non-book bookish item?

If you reply to this email with one or more (reasonable) ideas you will automatically be entered to win... whatever it is I end up choosing! And then next month when I make the announcement officially, you can enter for a second time. Nice, right?

But wait, there's more! LOL

Since it's February and the month of love, I'm asking you to share the L-O-V-E and forward this email to a friend and invite them to subscribe to my newsletter by clicking this link.

They'll receive a welcome email right away and if they respond to that with your name I will give you a THIRD entry! Plus they'll know about all this fun we're having and can jump on the bandwagon.

But wait, there's... just kidding. That's all I got.

Whew! I'm exhausted!

Is February over yet?

Keep an eye on your inbox for info on my next giveaway and may the odds be ever in your favor!

In the meantime, happy reading!

♡ Sarah
